Some Fighting, Anyway.

Yesterday, at San Diego, an attempt by the police to arrest some of the Charleston's sailors, who had over-stayed their shore leave and were carousing in a saloon, caused a riot in which citizens, sailors and police joined. Four sailors were killed. There is great excitement on the vessel, and threats of lynching all the deputies concerned in the trouble are being freely made, if the excited longshoremen and sailors can lay hands on them. The sympathy of the community seems to be with the sailors, as it is said the officers were too officious, and for the sake of securing the reward offered for deserters they undertook to arrest sailors whose leave had not expired.

Burned with Coal Oil.

The 6-year-old son of the late Dr. B. Zangerle was severely burned yesterday afternoon while playing with a combination of matches and coal oil near their home on the Divide. The force of the explosion and burning was principally confined to his hands. He was playing with a younger brother at the time, and the two were really fortunate to escape with their lives.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Control of the Road Said to be in the Hands of the Standard Oil Magnates.

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—Reports of a startling nature have been received here from New York regarding a railroad deal of great magnitude. A well known and reputable citizen of Los Angeles, who was recently in New York, learned there that the Huntington and Searls interests, carrying the control of the Southern Pacific Company, had changed hands, and had been acquired by the Standard Oil Company—Rockefeller, Payne, Brice, Thomas and others—who are expected to go into the Directorate of the Company on September 1st, when Mr. Rockefeller will assume the office of President. According to this report, the Standard Oil people held control previous to the last annual meeting in March, and could then have assumed the administration of the Company's affairs, but an agreement was made by which President Huntington was to remain at the head until certain cherished objects had been attained.

The informant tells the Los Angeles Times that he heard from Rockefeller's own lips a verification of this report, when the Standard Oil king said it had long been his ambition to control a transcontinental road. He added that when his ambition was gratified the people could expect to see lower rates put in force for both freight and passenger business between the oceans, his experience in the oil business having shown him the wisdom of making popular rates. His ambition would not rest with the acquisition of the Southern Pacific system, for he will be content with nothing short of a through line from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

OFFICIAL IN IGNORANCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The railroad officials today denied all knowledge of the alleged sale.

One of the officials remarked that rumors of a similar import had been in circulation for two or three years.

Still another report has been published which states that the Pacific Improvement Company has purchased the Southern California Motor line, said to have been under the control of the Southern Pacific Company for a couple of weeks. The report says the guage will be broadened.

The Southern Pacific officials who were interviewed stated that they know nothing of the affair.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty five cents a bottle.

Unjust Discrimination.

Secretary Foster of the Treasury Department has issued a circular to the officials of that department announcing the rates fixed by the Postmaster General for Government service which are for telegrams of ten words, exclusive of date, address and signature, not exceeding 400 miles 10 cents; distances exceeding 400 but not exceeding 1,000 miles, 20 cts; night messages for all distances, 15 cents for twenty words and a half a cent for each word over twenty.

If the telegraph companies can transmit Government messages at the rates stated at a profit, why does not the Government make a similar rate for the public? If Government messages cannot be transmitted at such rates, without loss to the telegraph companies, then the public must make up on individual messages. In either case those who patronize telegraph lines pay more than they ought.

The Opera House.

The entertainment given by the Carson High School Literary and Debating Societies, at the Opera House last night was a deserved success. The house was a good one and the funds secured will go toward purchasing a library. One of the most delightful and unexpected features of the entertainment was a piano solo rendered by Prof. Alfred Haymanson, which for delicacy of touch, brilliancy of execution and intenseness of expression has never been equalled in Carson. We are fortunate in having this gentleman with us. The young people have given us a good program and will be welcome again at any time.
